

Please back-off and let the free market decide where people get there entertainment, news, weather and information. It is out of place for the government to decide what's best for the listening public. No one can make a better choice than me for the way I chose to have content delivered. XM is better than legacy delivery systems. Let them take it to them if that's what the market demands.